DESCRIPTION:

November 19: Exploring Parenting Styles

Have you ever noticed yourself saying something to your children that your parent said to you? Or have you ever wondered how to guide and support your children effectively, while still preparing them for independence? In this workshop we will explore and reflect on our parenting styles, how they have developed, the benefits and drawbacks of each kind of parenting style, and how to find a balance that best supports a strong family for you.

Extension Extras for Professionals is a collection of free online series of childcare workshops that provides guidance for early childhood professionals and caregivers of young children. Trainings are eligible for MIRegistry hours.
