

JUNE 10TH

[SUR. VI. VOR]

: to continue to function or prosper despite many hardships; to withstand / noun

A wise woman once said: “you can be powerful or pitiful, but you can’t be both”. Well, here’s to YOU, for choosing powerful rather than pitiful. You have chosen strength amidst circumstances that you didn’t necessarily have a choice in. You have chosen victory rather than victimhood. You have chosen to prosper through difficulty. You withstood hardship.

Come to House of Providence’s first annual Survivors Brunch and leave encouraged. YOU are a survivor- this event is for you. If you have been in any way affected by foster care, a system, or life’s tribulations, please come. You will leave emboldened, I can promise you that.

All attendees must RSVP with Megan by:
May 31st.
