MORC

Please take a look at our upcoming classes:

*Leading in a Culture of Gentleness

At the heart of any well-run program is a well-prepared and supportive leader. Effective leaders know that relationship is the key to building successful teams. These team relationships make it possible for caregivers to build sustaining relationships with the individuals they serve and their circles of support. This day-long, 6-hour training is designed to help those who strive to enhance the way they support others by providing the concrete tools to increase confidence and enhance leadership skills.

*Culture of Gentleness Practicum

We are all more successful when we have a circle of supports and quality relationships that help us navigate the more difficult parts of day to day life. The Culture of Gentleness' foundation relies on the feelings we strive to create, the actions we can take, and the planning we initiate to create a safe and positive environment.

This 3-day training is a hands-on experience in the Culture of Gentleness for all those working in helping professions including, but not limited to, first-line supervisors, managers, support coordinators, and clinical staff. This training is essential for those looking to become certified mentors or trainers in their own organizations, but is limited to 18 participants because of the intimate setting and design.

*Online Mentor Training

This 2-hour training prepares one for the role of Mentor in a Culture of Gentleness Practicum. For those going on to more advanced training, this is a required step. This class is facilitated via GoToMeeting by one of our trainers. Unlike most online trainings, this is considered to be a synchronous online training which allows for interaction between learners and with the facilitator. The prerequisite for this class includes having taken a Culture of Gentleness Practicum within the last three years.

Mentoring Opportunities!

If you've received mentor training and would like to help support a practicum training as a mentor, please contact us and we can schedule your mentoring experience for date that makes sense for you!
